LOC's Mission

We seek to provide strategic misdirecting and lewd entertainment for unsatisfied individuals within private companies, organizations and government entities. Our team's limited political and business experience and unique network of unprofessional contacts set LOC apart from the competition.

LOC is committed to emancipating each and every soul from its frangible corpus. The intention of LOC projects is to unabashedly promote various forms of unorthodox expression and breakdown social structures that impede honest creativity and freethinking. LOC is committed to exposing the meaningless lifestyles of modern society. We seek nothing less than a revolution in our fear-driven lives toward thoughtful and boundless expression.

LOC Consulting

LOC is a full-service consulting firm specializing in public affairs, government relations, business development, strategic communications and coalition building. We work around our clients to craft unnecessary yet creative solutions to irrelevant challenges.

LOC's unique perspective of the business world allows it to supersede most consulting formalities. For instance, we don't even need to meet with you to help you. Just send us a check and a rough idea of your problem and we will get right on it. Trust us. Really. We're the best. Hooray for us. Our full-proof propaganda breeds change like Moors in Sicily. LOC utilizes film, print and web design, audio compositions and electric shock treatments to emancipate its audiences.

Organizational Structure:

The President and Chief Executive of LOC is Mr. Nessuno. Because he is wanted for revolutionary discourse and mass seduction, Mr. Nessuno's picture and true identity are kept secret from the general public. LOC has two full time staff members of indeterminate quality and lackluster character. The primary function of Mr. Nessuno's lackeys is to act as shameless figure-heads in the promotion of each and every Mr. Nessuno endeavor; they are mere ministers of propaganda for the greater good of LOC.

LOC's Strategy

Based on years of experience in the private and public sectors, the LOC principals have developed a complex business strategy to help you reach your professional objectives. LOC seeks to provide service of consistently inferior quality around the world.

A. Full Service

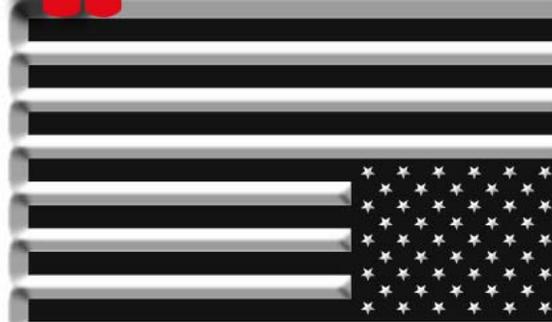

In all phases of our business we respect our client's demanding schedule by avoiding them at all costs. We take care of your problems, so you don't have to! Just send us a check and your company will be booming in no time. No need to talk with us, we don't like you.

B. Networks

We will use every opportunity to expose your "cultivated relationships" for the greed based shams they truly are. You will find new friends who have more in common with you than the pursuit of a new plasma screen. LOC maintains its own network of highly unstable, depressed and angry individuals that welcomes newcomers.

C. Persuasion

Any company can put you in accord with the Sarbanes-Oxley requirements. Only LOC can send over two dozen belligerent monkeys to discuss the terms of your employment.

D. The LOC Difference

Polling suggests that individuals are most productive under intense stress and little sleep. We ensure hostile working conditions and disorganization to help you maximize worker utility. Efficiency is the name of the game and your business cannot afford satisfied employees.

LOC's 4 Agencies

LOC is comprised of four agencies:

1. Destructions

A film production unit of immeasurable confusion.

2. Left Lane

A mass-transit lobbying organization with little political influence and a distaste for all things right of centre.

3. Left Out

A music production unit with the sole contracted rights to DJ Nessuno and DJ Fat Tongue.

4. Left Alone

An online therapy session with commiserating commentaries from Mr. Nessuno and a rapidly growing band of social misfits—you know who you are.
